LOOKS LIKE BUSINESS
AT THE TEMPE BRIDGE

The Permanent Survey Is Now Being Made Under Mr. Ryan's Direction.

J. C. Ryan, who will superintend the construction of the new Tempe bridge, together with Messrs. Goodman and Kirkland, is now engaged in making the permanent survey for the structure. Asked yesterday just how soon work would actually be started on the bridge, Mr. Ryan replied that no actual construction would be commenced until the matter of the right-of-way at both ends of the bridge had been arranged. On the north side of the river, J. H. Cummings holds land that will be crossed by the north approach and on the south side, the land to be crossed is the property of the M. & P. Railroad company. It is not anticipated that there will be any difficulty in making the necessary arrangements for a right-of-way through these two pieces of land. Just as soon as the board of control gets around to adjust this matter with these two parties, things will be in shape to start.

The plans of the bridge are not entirely finished but are far enough along so that the work can be started. The Tempe bridge will be different from the Center street bridge in that the spans will be arched instead of square.

It is planned to have the office of the superintending engineer located in the corner room of the Hayden house during the period of construction while the stockade and bunk houses will be placed on the north half of the block across the street next to the Hayden ditch. The stockade and bunk houses will be built with a view to accommodating as many as a hundred men, as it is anticipated that at times during the work this many convicts will be on the job.

FINE DAM VIEWS.
In the window of A. Nielsen & Co.'s real estate office is displayed some splendid kodak pictures of Roosevelt at the dedication of the dam that bears his name last Saturday. There are also some other excellent views of the dam taken from different points of advantage. They have attracted a great deal of attention. The views were taken by Tom Armstrong, who made the trip and took his kodak with him.

THE ANNUAL OPERA AT TEMPE NORMAL

It Takes Place on the Evening of April 4.

The bright and spicy opera, "The Nautical Knot," will be put on at the normal auditorium Tuesday night, April 4. Special scenery and properties are being prepared and appropriate costumes have been ordered, which will insure a faithful presentation of all the scenic effects called for.

Special attention is being devoted to the proper staging of the opera in every detail, and it abounds in beautiful music, funny situations, sayings and songs, and the public is assured a delightful, musical evening.

This is the normal's annual musical event for this season and is given by students of the school, and is not one of the lecture series of entertainments but a separate and distinct affair, for which the usual admission will be charged.

Admission charge and cast of characters will be announced later.

HAS AN ADVANTAGE.
The article appearing in the Tempe department of the Republican yesterday morning wherein the quality of the poetry "have been trying to put before my customers was criticized has created a good deal of talk.

I therefore submit the following: A newspaper reporter has no apparent pity for the mistakes and errors of his fellow men; in his position as a representative of the paper he has the advantage of being able to put his argument before the public first hand, yet when the subscriber wishes to show his side it works a hardship upon his pocketbook and that seems to be exactly what the newspaper man wants.

A citizen with average intelligence should always excuse a man for exposing his poor points, but in this case my every day associate went back on me. The newspaper man yesterday admitted the injustice of his statement and upon the exchange of cigars the matter was considered dropped.

I have never claimed to be a poet or newspaper writer, but have been sincere with my advertisements, believing that heart to heart talks were the best.

GETTING READY FOR CLOSE OF SCHOOL

High School Senior Class Is Making Preparations.

President Moeur called a meeting of the senior class Thursday afternoon and arrangements were made for the closing exercises of that school.

The class colors have not been decided upon as yet, since they will have to be chosen in Phoenix. The class pin has been chosen and will be in evidence upon the members of the class in a short time.

Instead of the usual play that is given by the graduating classes in this part of the territory, the seniors have decided to break the monotony by having an old fashioned class night, which will be a laughing matter from one end to the other. The seniors intend to present an original play, Miss Morrow being the playwright, assisted by other members of the class.

The class history by Miss Grace Warner, the class prophecy by Obed Lasson, the class poem by the secretary of the class, Lloyd Ozanne; the class song, composed by Mr. Leonard Brooks, and last, but not least, comes Sidney Moeur, the class president, and also the class donor or honor as some call him, who will present something unique and original which will be a program in itself, will be other features.

Preparations will begin at once and a very interesting program is assured the public. The high school will close this year the latter part of May, definite announcement of the date to be made later.

MESA

FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF VALLEY HORSES

The Organization of a Futurity Association.

M. P. Holladay returned yesterday from Phoenix, where he had been in attendance at a meeting of the Futurity association, an organization of horse breeders who are striving for a better grade of animals throughout Arizona.

The Futurity association is a national movement and practically all of the states are taking interest in the work. While the automobile has made serious inroads on the work to be done by the horse, there are those who remain who love a good horse and there will in all probability always be a demand for the horse.

The association meeting in Phoenix yesterday was one wherein the organization for Arizona was perfected. Officers were elected for the year and a purse was hung up for records of 2 and 3-year-olds. The purse is for $4,000 and will afford a purse large enough to be an incentive to a better and higher grade of breeding of trotting and pacing horses.

The officers elected were: President, A. H. Davidson, Phoenix; vice president, M. P. Holladay, Mesa; treasurer, C. E. Conner, Phoenix; secretary, Chas. Smith, Phoenix; director, J. G. Bell, Safford; director, G. J. McCabe, Bisbee.

A meeting will be held in the near future, at which time the organization will be further discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Steward were Phoenix visitors yesterday.

SWIFT-DYKES.
Married, at Fox hotel parlors, at 11 o'clock this morning, Rev. S. W. Gage, pastor of the Baptist church, Mesa, officiating, Frank Dykes to Miss Loraine Swift. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the brother of Mr. Dykes and a cousin.

The bride's home is in Michigan, but she has been residing in Chicago for some time past. She arrived on the morning train and was met at Phoenix by Mr. Dykes, Rev. Gage and the brothers of Mr. Dykes went to Phoenix this morning to attend the event.

Professor Frank Dykes, the groom, is the principal of the Alma schools, and has resided in this community since boyhood. He is a young man of strict integrity and has a host of friends in the community.

ORIGINAL IDEA DANCE

There was a large attendance at the Original Idea dance held at the Mesa opera house last night, even larger than the management had anticipated, and hence it kept them hustling to provide the necessary refreshments. Everything passed off pleasantly and to the satisfaction of all. The original idea program prepared by Mrs. George W. Lewis was not adopted for this dance for the reason that it was appropriate for a St. Patrick's day dance only. It was a beautiful idea, all carefully prepared, the words and music written out, and is one that will be used probably at a future dance. The program adopted was made up from various suggestions on the part of the
